The Names Project Foundation's AIDS memorial quilt covers 13 acres and consists of panels created by 78 fashion designers to commemorate friends and colleagues who died of AIDS. The illustration of each panel selected for this book is accompanied by a statement on its significance by the designer.

From the Publisher Always Remember documents an extraordinary collection of panels made for the AIDS Memorial Quilt by and for an international spectrum of fashion designers to honor friends and colleagues who have died of AIDS. Reproduced together here for the first time in full color, these 79 panels include the handiwork of an international community of such fashion panelmakers as Giorgio Armani, Geoffrey Beene, Bill Blass, Oscar de la Renta, Dolce Gabbana, Katharine Hamnett, Christina Lacroix, Isaac Mizrahi, Thierry Mugler, Todd

Oldham, Rifat Ozbek, Ralph Lauren, Yves Saint Laurent, Anna Sui, Richard Tyler, Gianni Versace, and many more. Accompanying each panel is a statement by the designer expressing the effect of AIDS on his or her life, what the loss of a loved one represents, and what inspired the panel's design. In Always Remember, the devastating impact of AIDS on the fashion industry is movingly explored.
