Fang Huang Gao, Heather Tennison, Janet A. Weber : Demystifying Serials Cataloging: A Book of Examples (Third Millennium Cataloging) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Demystifying Serials Cataloging: A Book of Examples (Third Millennium Cataloging):

This essential reference teaches library staff how to handle the most common and confusing problems in serials cataloging by providing clear examples, practice exercises, and helpful advice based on experience. Sources include industry-leading cataloging journals Important cataloging information accompanies each example, such as images of the journal's cover and title page, and machine-readable cataloging (MARC) record Margins contain applicable cataloging rules for each example

"This book can be an effective training tool for both students and novice catalogers. . . . I highly recommend this publication for your collection." - Technical Services Quarterly

"This work is a tool designed for those who are new to cataloging serials or need the latest information about revisions and developments in the field. It can also serve as a reference tool in understanding basic concepts as an aid to accessing serials and their records. This would also be an invaluable tool in a graduate teaching environment." - VOYA
