George E. Hein, Mary Alexander : Museums: Places of Learning (Professional Practice Series) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Museums: Places of Learning (Professional Practice Series):

In Museums: Places of Learning, the authors explore all aspects of educational theory, museum education practice, and visitor studies in a straightforward, concise, and readable manner. Useful in relating the educational contributions of museums to the wider educational issues of society and to public service, this book is a must-read for every museum board and staff member.
