Translated by Peter Krapp (author) Markus Krajewski : Paper Machines: About Cards Catalogs, 1548-1929 (History and Foundations of Information Science) (Hardback) - Common before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Paper Machines: About Cards Catalogs, 1548-1929 (History and Foundations of Information Science) (Hardback) - Common:

Today on almost every desk in every office sits a computer. Eighty years ago, desktops were equipped with a nonelectronic data processing machine: a card file. In Paper Machines, Markus Krajewski traces the evolution of this proto-computer of rearrangeable parts (file cards) that became ubiquitous in offices between the world wars. The story begins with Konrad Gessner, a sixteenth-century Swiss po...
