Bobby Ferguson : Subject Analysis: Blitz Cataloging Workbook (Blitz Cataloging Workbooks) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Subject Analysis: Blitz Cataloging Workbook (Blitz Cataloging Workbooks):

Designed to assist library school students, copy catalogers, and paraprofessionals in learning the principles and practices of modern cataloging, these three volumes provide a variety of exercises on MARC cataloging, Anglo-American Cataloging Rules (AACR), authority control, subject headings (LCSH and Sears List of Subject Headings), classification (Library of Congress and Dewey Decimal), and nonbook cataloging (computer files, sound recordings, video recordings, maps, and kits). The series covers both general cataloging information and specific MARC tags; series entries; the use of such tools as Subject Cataloging Manual: Subject Headings, LCSH, AACR2r, and Sears List of Subject Headings. It also addresses construction of MARC authority records and bibliographic records, and the detection and correction of cataloging errors. Intended to be used as supplementary materials (rather than as primary textbooks) by students, the books are a great resource for library professionals and paraprofessionals wh

"For students of cataloging, for new catalogers, for possible training of skilled paraprofessionals--or for those who just want review in the basics--[this] workbook will be highly useful ... Recommended." "Any cataloging department will find it a useful resource." About the Author BOBBY FERGUSON is Head of Technical Services, East Baton Rouge Parish Library, Louisiana.
