Susan Geiger : TANU Women: Gender and Culture in the Making of Tanganyikan Nationalism, 1955-1965 (Social History of Africa) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised TANU Women: Gender and Culture in the Making of Tanganyikan Nationalism, 1955-1965 (Social History of Africa):

Paper Edition. Geiger reveals the actions and "culture of politics" through which women participants in the Tanganyika African National Union (TANU) women constructed, performed, and maintained nationalism in Tanzania.

"Geiger's pathbreaking book about African women and the creation of nationalism in Tanganyika represents a significant contribution to modern African historical studies.... Geiger's unique study is certain to spark the reevaluation of women's role in nationalist construction across the continent. Upper-division undergraduates and above."-Choice
