From Mark Osteen : The Question of the Gift: Essays Across Disciplines (Routledge Studies in Anthropology) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Question of the Gift: Essays Across Disciplines (Routledge Studies in Anthropology):

The Question of the Gift is the first collection of new interdisciplinary essays on the gift. Bringing together scholars from a variety of fields, including anthropology, literary criticism, economics, philosophy and classics, it provides new paradigms and poses new questions concerning the theory and practice of gift exchange. In addressing these questions, contributors not only challenge the conventions of their fields, but also combine ideas and methods from both the social sciences and humanities to forge innovative ways of confronting this universal phenomenon.

About the Author Mark Osteen is Professor of English and Director of the Center for the Humanities at Loyola University Maryland. He is the author of four books, including One of Us: A Family's Life with Autism, the editor of the Viking Critical Edition of Don DeLillo's White Noise, and co-editor, with Martha Woodmansee, of The New Economic Criticism (Routledge, 1999).
