is such a gifted woman, writing with love and this book another perfect example of her dedication to helping women in need to find freedom from oppression, prostitution and addiction. She is a gift from God.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. This book is beautifully written and tells of great faithBy Sharon LynchThis book is beautifully written and tells of great faith! It makes one realize that it is not on the size of an army that victory depends, but on the strength that comes for heaven! (1 Mac 3:19).1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Timely BookBy Janet WrightThis is a fabulous book. Becca brings to the forefront a problem that we have right here in our own country. Her remedy is quite amazing. She shows her faith in people.

What started as an impossible dream-to build a caf that employs women recovering from prostitution and addiction-is helping to fuel an astonishing movement to bring freedom and fair wages to women producers worldwide where tea and trafficking are linked by oppression and the opiate wars. Becca Stevens started the Thistle Stop Caf to empower women survivors. But when she discovered a connection between caf workers and tea laborers overseas, she embarked on a global mission called "Shared Trade" to increase the value of women survivors and producers across the globe. As she recounts the victories and unexpected challenges of building the caf, Becca also sweeps the reader into the world of tea, where timeless rituals transport to an era of beauty and the challenging truths about tea's darker, more violent history. She offers moving reflections of the meaning of tea in our lives, plus recipes for tea blends that readers can make themselves.In this journey of triumph for impoverished tea laborers, hope for caf workers, and insight into the history of tea, Becca sets out to defy the odds and prove that love is the most powerful force for transformation on earth.

"If you have not already met Becca Stevens of Thistle Farms fame, it's time you had the pleasure, and here's your chance. Just look how she shares tea and happiness-isn't she wonderful?"James Norwood Pratt, America's Tea Sage, author of JNP's Tea Dictionary, etc."Becca Stevens is a force of nature-both as a speaker and with her words on the page. Her message always gets right to the heart of the matter."John Prine, songwriter"[Women served by thistle Farms] would be dead by now if it weren't for a remarkable initiative by the Rev. Becca Stevens..to help women escape trafficking and prostitution."Nicholas Kristoff, The New York TimesAbout the AuthorBECCA STEVENS is an Episcopal priest serving as chaplain at St. Augustine's at Vanderbilt University.
